philip j ivanhoe s richly annotated translation of this classic work is accompanied by his engaging interpretation and commentary a lucid introduction and a language appendix that compares eight classic translations of the opening passage of the work and invites the reader to consider the principles upon which each was rendered

dao de jing is one of the richest most suggestive and most popular works of philosophy and literature composed in china between the late sixth and the late fourth centuries b c its enigmatic verses have inspired artists philosophers poets religious thinkers and general readers down to our own times this new translation both revelatory and authentic captures much of the beauty and nuance of the original work in an extensive and accessible commentary to his translation moss roberts reveals new depths of dao de jing this edition is distinguished by the literary quality of the translation its new renderings for a number of the stanzas and by roberts s knowledgeable contextualizations utilizing recently discovered manuscripts and chinese scholarship based on them he is able to shed new light on the work s historical and philosophical contexts this translation shows that dao de jing is far more than a work of personal inspiration it is also a work of universal scope that makes penetrating comments on politics statecraft cosmology aesthetics and ethics roberts brings these themes to our attention shows how they are integrated into the work as a whole and demonstrates the relevance of these topics for our own times this translation presents daoism s basic text in highly readable contemporary english incorporating the latest scholarship in the field including the most recent discoveries of ancient manuscripts in the 1970s and 90s the book explains daodejing s often cryptic verses in a clear and concise way the introduction interprets the daodejing s poetic imagery in the context of ancient chinese symbolism and a brief philosophical analysis accompanies each of the 81 translated chapters of the daodejing a new version of the dao that was 30 years in the making it truly is an easy to understand text that is written in english but retains the tone of the original chinese text it provides a blank page opposite each chapter for the reader to record their own thoughts and ideas having been written by a layman and not a scholar it does not contain any academic analysis it is solely the evaluation of one attempting to understand and live by the words of the old master a new translation of the ancient chinese book of the tao dust jacket front for centuries the ancient chinese philosophical text the daodejing tao te ching has fascinated and frustrated its readers while it offers a wealth of rich philosophical insights concerning the cultivation of one s body and attaining one s proper place within nature and the cosmos its teachings and structure can be enigmatic and obscure hans georg moeller presents a clear and coherent description and analysis of this vaguely understood chinese classic he explores the recurring images and ideas that shape the work and offers a variety of useful approaches to understanding and appreciating this canonical text moeller expounds on the core philosophical issues addressed in the daodejing clarifying such crucial concepts as yin and yang and dao and de he explains its teachings on a variety of subjects including sexuality ethics desire cosmology human nature the emotions time death and the death penalty the daodejing also offers a distinctive ideal of social order and political leadership and presents a philosophy of war and peace an illuminating exploration the daodejing is an interesting foil to the philosophical outlook of western humanism and contains surprising parallels between its teachings and nontraditional contemporary philosophies leading scholars examine religious and philosophical dimensions of the chinese classic known as the daodejing or laozi tao te ching also commonly known as lao tzu is perhaps the most important of chinese classical texts with an unparalleled influence on chinese thought this bilingual edition consists of two parts the english text in part one is a reprint of the earlier translation of the so called wang pi text first published by penguin books in 1963 part two is the fresh translation of a text which is a conflation of two manuscripts of the lao tzu dating at the latest from the early western han and discovered at ma wang tui in december 1973 the result is a text with a fuller use of particles free from the scribal errors and editorial tampering of subsequent ages laozi also lao tzu 'laʊ'dzɑ or lao tze chinese 老子 pinyin lǎozǐ literally old master was an ancient chinese philosopher and writer he is known as the reputed author of the tao te ching the founder of philosophical taoism and a deity in religious taoism and traditional chinese religions a semi legendary figure laozi is usually dated to around the 6th century bce and reckoned a contemporary of confucius but some historians contend that he actually lived during the warring states period of the 5th or 4th century bce a central figure in chinese culture laozi is claimed by both the emperors of the tang dynasty and modern people of the li surname as a founder of their lineage laozi s work has been embraced by various anti authoritarian movements 4 as well as chinese legalism the tao te ching is a classic chinese text written around the 6th century bc by laozi a zhou dynasty courtier while its authorship is debated the text remains a fundamental building block of taoism and one of the most influential works of its time today it s one of the most translated works in the world the work itself is a series of 81 short poetic sections each one written in a fluid ambiguous style leaving them open to wide interpretation subjects range from advice to those in power to advice to regular people and adages for daily living because of its ambiguous nature the tao te ching is famously difficult to translate and many if not all translations are significantly influenced by the translator s state of mind this translation is by james legge a famous scottish sinologist and the first professor of chinese at oxford university traditionally attributed to lao tzu an older contemporary of confucius 551 479 bc it is now thought that the work was compiled in about the fourth century bc an anthology of wise sayings it offers a model by which the individual can live rather than explaining the human place in the universe the moral code it encourages is based on modesty and self restraint and the rewards reaped for such a life are harmony and flow of life

dao de jing or so simply referred to as the laozi is a chinese classic text the text s true authorship and date of composition or compilation are still debated the oldest excavated portion dates back to the late 4th century bce but modern scholarship dates other parts of the text as having been written or at least compiled later than the earliest portions of the zhuangzi the tao te ching along with the zhuangzi is a fundamental text for both philosophical and religious taoism and strongly influenced other schools such as legalism confucianism and chinese buddhism which when first introduced into china was largely interpreted through the use of daoist words and concepts many chinese artists including poets painters calligraphers and even gardeners have used the daodejing as a source of inspiration its influence has also spread widely outside east asia and it is among the most translated works in world literature

2 500 years ago a little known government official in china wrote a book that has been translated more often than any other book in the world except the bible this book the daodejing pronounced dow de jing and often referred to as just the dao is the basis of much of the eastern world s philosophical and religious thought as well as tai chi and kung fu it contains wisdom that pertains to daily life as well as the administration of government but it is an entertaining one night read i ll bet you can t read it without smiling it consists of 81 one page chapters it is one of those books that you will enjoy on your first reading but you may reread time and time again each time finding some new meaning it makes a great gift too if you read the reviews of the various versions of the dao on amazon you will find that many readers of the dao have multiple copies add this book to the collection of anyone that enjoys an entertaining and thought provoking book it is also known as tao de ching dao teh jing tao teh ching and others the ascribed original author was lao tzu the more current spelling in pinyin chinese is laozi

a classic of chinese philosophical literature the tao te ching was traditionally ascribed to the legendary sixth century bc philosopher laozi though this is now largely disputed the religious tradition of taoism emphasises the importance of living in harmony with the tao the fundamental impersonal principle that underlies the universe one of its foundational texts the tao te ching presents a way of life intended to restore harmony and tranquillity to a kingdom racked by widespread disorders the text was critical of the unbridled wantonness of self seeking rulers and disdainful of the social activism characteristic of confucian ethics the work has inspired countless generations of readers across the world and its popularity is reflected in the vast number of translations and commentaries composed over the centuries delphi s eastern treasures series provides ereaders with precious texts of middle eastern and asian literature featuring prominent works of history fiction religion and philosophy complemented with the original texts this ebook presents the complete text of the tao te ching with illustrations informative introductions and the usual delphi bonus material version 1 beautifully illustrated with images relating to laozi and the tao te ching multiple translations of tao te ching the original chinese school text of tao te ching concise introduction to the text excellent formatting of the texts easily locate the sections you want to read with individual contents tables provides a special dual english and chinese text allowing readers to compare the sections paragraph by paragraph ideal for students features a bonus resources section with seminal works on the taoist tradition contents the translations john chalmers translation 1868 frederic henry balfour translation 1884 james legge translation 1891 the original text contents of the chinese text the dual text dual chinese and english text the resources introduction to taoism 1891 by james legge the tao teh king a short study in comparative religion 1905 by c spurgeon medhurst taoism 1906 by herbert allen giles myths and doctrines of taoism 1924 by donald a mackenzie
